Market Implementation Committee
December 2, 2020

- Mission: The mission of this ETF is to support PJM's Advanced Technology Pilot Program (ATPP) which offer a platform to study the viability of integrating emerging technologies that may enhance system reliability, operational and market efficiency, and resilience.
- To do this, the ETF will provide a centralized, open forum for education on emerging grid technologies, identification of issues that should be explored concerning operations, planning, and markets, and recommendations for addressing those impacts.

Gather stakeholder input on emerging technologies affecting the RTO that should be discussed at the Emerging Technologies Forum, considered as an Advanced Technology Pilot, or warrant another form of collaboration.

Use the input to provide PJM staff with ideas for future discussion topics, as well as to reflect back to stakeholders notable information in the responses
