

RASTF – Procurement of Clean Resource Attributes

Dave Anders, Director, Stakeholder Affairs
Walter Graf, Sr. Director, Economics,
Market Services
Matt Bernstein, Policy Advisor II
Markets & Reliability Committee
March 23, 2022

- KWA#1: Determine whether a forward procurement of clean resource attributes should be pursued, and investigate the inclusion of the Social Cost of Carbon in PJM markets.
 - Discuss the potential benefits and drawbacks of a forward procurement of clean resource attributes.
 - Discuss the potential benefits and drawbacks of including the Social Cost of Carbon in wholesale markets (capacity, energy and ancillary services, or some combination)
 - PJM and stakeholders present different high-level solution options for consideration and to inform discussions of market design directions and next steps.
 - Decide on the initial direction for future activities by the end of Q1 2022
